

Well done...Will Broom 7ENT!

Will has written and published a book called "The Adventures of Harrison and William" and it is available to download onto your kindle from Amazon (£1.99). What a great achievement for a Y7 student! Well done, Will!

★★★★★ A brilliant read, loved it

About the Author

I was born in Heanor, Derbyshire, and I had a brilliant first two years of my life. Then my brother James came along; he was a bit pesky. [James, if you are reading this: I don't mean any of this; if you are not reading this: I do mean all of this!]

I'm going to tell you about the time Mum told James to get something out of the printer: when the little tray thing popped out and James went 'aargh,' really loud. There was also the time he dropped his sock in the toilet after I just flushed it.

Anyway, enough humiliating James; more about me. Right now, in 2017, I live in Heanor with my mum, my stepdad, my brother James and our dog, Pig. My life is great, my family are alright, my town is great and James is just downright annoying: like Doctor Trayaurus.

My other interests include baking; playing Clash of Clans, Clash Royale, Star Wars and Calossatron; art; knitting; playing piano, drums and guitar; and designing characters.

Lucasfilm, if you are reading this now: I have a few things I want to show you!

If writing a book or five does not work out, I want to either open a coffee shop or a theme park. If anyone wants to give me some advice on writing a book, then I'm all ears. If I open a coffee shop, you should probably stop by. We'll be the only place in the world where you can buy a sugary magic espresso. The recipe is a sworn secret; I will never tell. Not even my most trusted employee.

If I go with the theme park option, it will probably be a Clash of Clans world. I will also include Clash Royale arenas, a Hog Rider simulator, a battle roller-coaster and more. I might just need £5,000,000 from the government; still working on this!
