History at A Level offers students the opportunity to investigate how the collapse of the Tsarist regime led to the emergence of a Communist state in Russia; how Germany progressed from a dictatorship into a leading democratic nation; and why rebellion and disorder continued throughout the Tudor age. The course covers religious, social, political and economic change; the stories of those affected are inspiring, intriguing and disturbing. Through archive footage, source interrogation, site visits and through debate and discussion, students will develop communication skills in order to assess the significance of events, individuals, beliefs and movements from that particular time.
